Gentlemen,

John is one of the best roofing foremen we have in our company and that I have ever encountered in the roofing industry. I have had the privilege to work with him for over 22 years and can attest to how well run his projects are. He has everything planned out extremely well and completes his roofs according to the highest industry standards and always wants his projects to be safe.

I have always gotten a kick out of the fact that so many building owners and general contractors want him and his crew for their next project. When it comes to contributing to a team effort and his job performance, he is at the top! If I wanted to take a lot of your time, I could give many specific examples of the extra-ordinary contributions he has made to our company and our customers.

I hope you will select him as an MVP winner. He is certainly very deserving!

Respectfully yours,

Acme Roofing
